Studies in Black

[UDGING by the demand across our counters,—and that's J a safe way of judging,—black in dress fabrics is to emphasize this season its popularity of last Fall. Justly so. It Ladies' New Fall Waists, has immense advantage of almost universal "becomingness," in cloth, silk and velvet. almost universal suitability, great serviceability, and, as exemplified in this great collection, undoubted novelty and beauty.

The time has long since passed when the use of black Waists had a sombre significance. The perfect taste, the quiet richness, and the tremendous effectiveness of the black fabrics Waists $4.98 of recent days are well known to most women.

All this is to preface a mention of the entirely unrivalled collection of exclusive and desirable fabrics in black that we are showing. There is but one other such collection on this side of the Atlantic,—that is in our Philadelphia store. Nine-tenths of these patterns are imported, and it is when denied the advantage of color that the perennial freshness and in chenilles, cheviots, silks, dashing originality of the French designer is best demon- serges, venetians. strated.
